

Children should be imparted right education and good culture : Chief Minister

Education should not be linked to politics and they should not be misled

Intellectuals should guide students

Chief Minister addresses the free summer training camp of the Kanpur District Child Welfare Committee

Lucknow: 08 June, 2017

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath ji has said that education should not be linked to politics and stressed that students should not be misled. He added that children were like seeds that needed to be given the right education and good culture right from their formative years so that the country has a bright future and the children grow to serve the society.

The Chief Minister made these statements at the the free summer training camp of the Kanpur District Child Welfare Committee at Bal Bhawan in Phoolbagh. On this occasion, he also inaugurated an exhibition by lighting the ceremonial inaugural lamp. He also viewed the things at the exhibition connected to jute work, flower making, beautician, pearl work, bandanwaar, crotchet work, stitching at fashion designing.

Yogi ji while addressing the present students said that it was a matter of happiness that the summer vacations were being used in a good way. So far 3200 boys and girls have enrolled themselves for the training camp. He also underlined how the changes in the viewpoint about education had changed big time which was a dream after Independence. The dreams seen then are being realized now.

Lauding the students, the Chief Minister said that we are using education in politics and added that had education been used creatively and for nationalism, education institutes closed for moths in Kashmir would have been bustling with educational activities. Some misled youths are engaged in stone pelting there because of which education was being disturbed.

Yogi ji also appreciated the items displayed in the exhibition and said that every person had something or the other special about him or her and the need was only to inculcate it and enhance it further. He also called upon the intellectual class to guide the students.

Also present on the occasion were Agriculture Minister Mr. Surya Pratap Shahi, Khadi Industries Minister Mr. Satyadev Pachauri, people's representatives, senior officers, office bearers of the Kanpur District Child Welfare Committee and a large number of students.
