Lucknow: 17 July, 2017

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath ji has greeted Union Minister Mr. M. Venkaiah Naidu for being named the Vice-Presidential candidate of the National Democratic Alliance (NDA). This decision of the Hon'ble Prime Minister and the BJP Parliamentary Board, he pointed out, was a matter of pride for farmers and other sections of the society

Expressing happiness at the decision, the Chief Minister recalled how Mr. Naidu has led a long public life and discharged his duties both in the organization and the government ably and responsibly. With the great work he has done in the rural development sector, his naming as the VP candidate is a great honour for the rural people and farmers, Yogi ji further said.

With his personality and able leadership, the Chief Minister pointed out, Mr. Naidu was popular all across the country, including north India. Known for his oratorical skills, Mr. Naidu's love for the Hindi language is also well know, the Chief Minister said.
