in Vidhan Sabha for being elected President

His compassion for the deprived and marginalized a defining trait of his personality : Chief Minister

Lucknow : 21 July, 2017

Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath ji has greeted Mr. Ram Nath Kovind ji for being elected as the next President of India. Speaking at a motion presented in the state Assembly to congratulate the President elect, the Chief Minister said Mr. Kovind ji is a man connected to his roots and his personality is multi-faceted.

The Chief Minister added that Mr. Kovind ji is a dedicated social worker, an able lawyer and as an MP he was known for championing the cause of the deprived and marginalized sections of the society. A clean image and excellence at work helped him in his election to the top constitutional post of the country.

Yogi ji also stated that Mr. Kovind was born in Paraunkh village of Kanpur Dehat district and he has served the Nation in various capacities. Representing the country he also addressed the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Due to his non-partisan actions, as Governor of Bihar, he was equally popular with both the ruling party and opposition parties, the Chief Minister pointed out in his address.
