Uttar Pradesh Governor Mr. Ram Naik has said that the life of Maharana Pratap is an ever lasting inspiration for generations. Not only was he a great warrior and a great patriot, he also had a great sense of self-respect and that he never surrendered before the Mughal Emperor Akbar, the governor further said. He added that by doing so he set an exemplary example which makes every Indian proud.

The governor made these statements at the PWD auditorium at the anniversary of Maharana Pratap. He also praised the Chief Minister and said that he was working hard to make Uttar Pradesh a front-ranking state in the country.

The Governor also praised the union minister of state for external affairs and said that he set an example when he supervised the mission to pull out trapped Indians from war torn Yemen. He is also doing a great job as a people's representative, the governor said while wishing in advance the minister on his birthday which falls on May 10.

Addressing the gathering, Chief Minister Mr. Yogi Adityanath said that on the 477th anniversary of Maharana Pratap everyone should dedicate themselves to the high standards of character and self-respect set by him. He also called for everyone to have a positive approach to things and not waste time with negative thoughts. The Chief Minister also shed light on the life of the governor and praised his contribution to the society and the nation.

Mr. Yogi also informed that the state government was guided by the credo of Prime Minister Narendra Modi-Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikaas and said that it was a matter of pride for every Indian that the prime minister was a front-ranking global leader. The Chief Minister also listed many virtues of Gen VK Singh and called upon the new generation to emulate him and his works.

The Chief Minister also said that the country which has not preserved its history cannot protect its geography and pointed out that Maharana Pratap, Guru Govind Singh and Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj were our ideals and assured that we would always tread on the path shown by them.

Addressing the function, General VK Singh reminded the gathering how the life of Maharana Pratap was a story of valour, sacrifice and lauded the contributions of the UP Chief Minister in trying to bring things on track in Uttar Pradesh. He also expressed hope that the state would soon be soaring to new heights. Before this, Governor Mr. Ram Naik, the Chief Minister and Gen. VK Singh lit the ceremonial lamp. Also present at the event were Minister Mr. Ashutosh Tandon, Dr. Mahendra Singh and Mrs. Swati Singh.

The Chief Minister was also gifted a memento. Also present were large number of people's representatives, senior officers and dignitaries.
